

THINGS THAT FLOAT

Solve the clues below to identify things that humankind has invented to travel across water. Many of the letters have a number below them. Place those letters in the corresponding spaces in the final box to reveal the place where young Roger Woodward unwittingly faced both death and fame.

A light, narrow craft used by the Inuit

  K     A     Y     A     K  
          3          7

A floating platform, often made of wood

                                   
          6          9          8

A boat rowed on canals in Venice

                                            
          4          1          11

Large piece of fabric or canvas that attaches to a mast

                                   
          12        5        2        10

The awesome drop of Roger Woodward's misadventure

                    A                                A                                               
          1        2        3        4        5        6        7        8        9        10        11        12

(This is a sample Word Mash-Up game only. In these games, you will find the answers to clues and then rearrange the letters to reveal a secret message. A Word Mash-Up activity in a particular unit elsewhere on our website will relate to the topic being explored in that unit.)